

Session T3 – Auditing in a Windows Environment

About the Speaker

Nicholas Green

Nicholas Green is a senior associate in KPMG's Silicon Valley Information Risk Management practice, with over fourteen years professional experience in information security, information systems risk assessment information systems audit and financial audit. His experience includes information security risk assessments and review, penetration tests, SAS 70 reviews, business process analyses, and information technology and financial audits. His technical expertise includes the security of Windows NT/2000/2003, Unix/Linux, TCP/IP networks, routers and firewalls, and the audit and control of Oracle eBusiness suite, JD Edwards and Great Plains.

Nicholas is serving his second term as the program director of the ISACA Silicon Valley chapter. He is a CISSP and a CISA.