

Session C12 – Auditing Application Systems

By Monica O'Reilly and Maria Shaw

Topic Summary

This session will discuss the process for planning and performing an application audit. The session will focus on principles and methods that can be applied to auditing any type of application. We will discuss the need to understand the business processes supported by the application and identify the risks associated with those processes. Through an interactive discussion, we will identify typical application controls, and recommend techniques to audit those controls.
