

Name:	Deborah Grove
Presentation Title:	Risk Mitigation through Sustainable IT
Abstract:
Session objectives: Overview of Sustainable Computing topics Challenges and opportunities Some best practices How to plan Application to your job: A comprehensive understanding of the issues involved, some in depth questions to ask as part of your fact finding program, and additional resources to enhance your knowledge going forward.
Target Audience:
Layperson and auditor at beginning to intermediate level attempting to understand where to put parameters on the topic of "Green IT" or sustainable computing as it applies to an entire organization.
COBIT Objectives:
Not sure how to address this Steve.
Speaker Bio:
Deborah Grove is the Principal at Grove-Associates, a Silicon Valley-based consulting company focused on global strategies for sustainability, innovation and Green IT. As a former managing director of IDC Asia, Deborah has been describing, interpreting, and predicting IT trends since 1981. Her recent emphasis on leveraging technology to lower corporate carbon footprints is chronicled in her well-respected blog: www.grovesgreenit.typepad.com . Recent clients include SAP and Pacific Gas & Electric.	